

Bill the Bat Loves Halloween

Written by Daryl K. Cobb

Illustrated by Manuela Pentangelo

No part of this publication may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without written permission of the publisher.

For information regarding permission, write to:
Ten To Two Children's Books LLC., Attention: Permissions Department,
PO Box 5173, Clinton, N.J. 08809

Text copyright © 2007 by Daryl K. Cobb

Illustrations copyright © 2007 by Manuela Pentangelo

All rights reserved. Published by Ten To Two Children's Books LLC.

Bill the Bat copyrights and character designs are used under license from Daryl K. Cobb and Manuela Pentangelo, by Ten To Two Children's Books LLC.

Bill the Bat characters and names are trademarks of Daryl K. Cobb.

Book design was done courtesy of Manuela Pentangelo.

10 To 2 Children's Book logo was created by Manuela Pentangelo.

10 To 2 Children's Books and associated logo are trademarks of Ten To Two Children's Books LLC.

10 To 2 Children's Books logo characters and names are trademarks of Daryl K. Cobb and are used under license by Ten To Two Children's Books LLC.

Library of Congress Control Number 2007929835

ISBN 978-1-4243-4454-3

Written by Daryl K. Cobb

Illustrated by Manuela Pentangelo

10 To 2 Children's Books

Time to Read

TM

10to2childrensbooks.com

Printed in China

First Printing 2007

To my family - CC, KC and JC - for their continued support and inspiration.

Daryl K. Cobb

To my family and friends who support me every day, and to Daryl, for believing in me.

Happy Halloween to everyone!

Manuela Pentangelo

Bill the bat loved Halloween.
It was the funniest thing
that he had ever seen.

The kids dressed up like ghouls and ghosts.

The boy called Nixon scared him the most.

Bill spent the night
just flying around.

To get a good look,
he had to swoop down.

The kids would all scream
and scatter away.
“A bat, a bat!”
he heard them all say.

Someone started a rumor
some years ago,

let me think, let me think,
now how did it go?

A bat could swoop down and get caught in your hair.

In your hair he would nest and his kids would live there.